

Sammy is a Violet!

Sammy Wong will be heading to Manhattan, New York, in the fall to attend New York University.

Founded in 1831, NYU is renowned for its research excellence and top-tier programs in the arts, business, law, and medicine. Consistently ranked among the top 30 universities in the nation, NYU boasts a distinguished roster of influential alumni across all fields of study, including Nobel Prize winners.

Sammy will be joining the NYU swim program as one of its top breaststrokers and will make an immediate impact on the team.

Congratulations, Sammy!
