

Matthew Yaglenski Bio:

Matthew Yaglenski is the CFO for Stokes Equipment Company, a material handling installation and supplier in Horsham, PA.

Matt provides strategic leadership to the business, as well management of its financial and capital resources. He oversees Budget and Financial Planning, Capital Expense Management, Human Resources, and IT Functions, and many of the core business relationships. Matt is highly collaborative across all functions to support the company's mission of safety, unparalleled project management, innovative products, and outstanding service.

Prior to his role at Stokes Equipment, Matt spent more than 10 years in the public accounting arena, advising and providing services to non-profits of sports organizations to unions, construction clients and a variety of other closely held businesses, followed by a decade in private industry leadership from publishing to environmental remediation.

From the age of 6 to 20, Matt was an avid competitive swimmer, but now is relegated to laps in the pool for enjoyment. He currently volunteers as treasurer for the PASD Golf Boosters At his son's local high school. Matt enjoys spending his time with his wife Alice and two children, Evan and Cora. He is actively involved in their activities, from basketball to golf to swim lessons. He loves traveling with his family—recently hiking up Mt. Dorr with Cora on his back and trying not to look down.
