

The Athletes Committee has started creating weekly posts on Instagram encouraging athletes to wear their masks. To go along with that we are planning to start Instagram takeovers with the help of the Team athlete representatives and the athletes who attended the leadership summit.

We are also focusing on improving communication with athletes letting them know when we are having our committee meetings and making sure they feel welcome. We will also be reaching out to athletes on other committees to encourage their attendance at our meetings and ask that they give brief reports. We are thinking about having athlete zoom meetings more often so that athletes feel supported and can stay connected. These won't be formal meetings with an agenda, they will be open for athletes to talk about anything and possibly fun activities.

Mckayla Kendall has also mentioned that Caitlin Tycz is interested in having individual zoom discussions with athletes who are looking to swim in college. We will work with Caitlin to discuss ways this might work.
