Let The Games Begin!

During 1992-93, more people attended MHSAA tournaments than at any other time in history — more than 1.2 million!

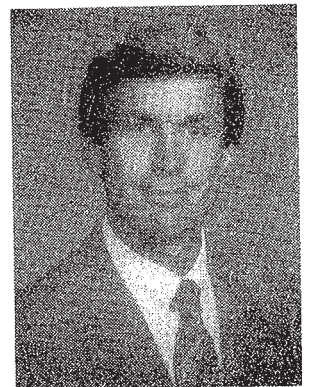

Fans followed sons and daughters, brothers and sisters, nephews and nieces, friends and neighbors. They packed tiny gyms and spacious arenas. They survived humid natatoria and frigid rinks and slopes. They got hot, cold and soaked to share the excitement and lend support.

Once in awhile, some fans lost control because they forgot the purpose of interscholastic athletics is education and that the venue is really a laboratory classroom, like a school field trip...

But most of the time, most spectators respected the purpose of school sports, uplifted the contestants, and shared in the building of positive school and community spirit that flows from athletics like no other school program.

Thank you for your support, and welcome to our classroom today.
