Let The Games Begin!

Welcome to the MHSAA Finals. At a time when the entertainment levels of sports -- the professional and major college programs -- market themselves in an "In Your Face," anything goes, MTV manner; we should stop to think about why we are here today.

There are titles to be determined, but that's not the mission of educational athletics. Tomorrow comes and life goes on regardless of the outcome of these games. What we need to take from this event are the experiences that provide values and balance to our lives. That some days things will not always go the way we want them to go, and that ethics and integrity in competition and respect for teammates, opponents, coaches, officials and spectators are more important than trophies and medals.

Let The Games Begin!

—John E. "Jack" Roberts
