

SportsEngine Account Access

Please note that SportsEngine only allows one primary email address to have full access to an account. This policy is in place to protect the privacy and security of accounts and to avoid potential legal complications.

While additional email addresses can be added to receive team communications, they do not grant access to other features of the app.

If both parents or guardians wish to have full access to all of SportsEngine's tools and features, we recommend sharing the primary login email and password between spouses.
