Santa Fe Activities

Santa Fe Plaza

The Santa Fe Plaza is located in downtown Santa Fe. The plaza is host to many art galleries, Native vendors, and local cuisine. Visiting the Plaza shows the rich culture that New Mexico has to offer.

Meow Wolf Santa Fe

Visit the birthplace of Meow Wolf here in Santa Fe. Starting in 2008, Meow Wolf has exploded in popularity. Meow Wolf offers a unique, fun, and artsy experience. The Santa Fe Meow Wolf exhibit currently is called the House of Eternal Return and is themed around interdimensional travel and bringing back dead family members.

Georgia O'Keeffe Museum

In the Georgia O'Keeffe Museum, you will be exposed to the beautiful art created by Georgia O'Keeffe. Her art is an exploration into how she viewed the world and spans the seven decades that she remained an independent artist who stayed away from most modern art movements.

New Mexico Museum of Art

Near the Georgia O'Keeffe Museum, you can find the New Mexico Museum of Art. This museum was created to show visitors the rich culture that New Mexico has. Showing art from the past as well as more current art, the galleries are sure to inspire the artist buried in your mind.

Santa Fe Opera House

The Santa Fe Opera House is a staple for anyone visiting Santa Fe. The opera house is the only open-air opera house in the United States. The calendar for performances can be found on their website and it is a must see in Santa Fe.

Village of Tesuque and Tesuque Glassworks

Right down the road from the Opera House, you can find yourself in the Village of Tesuque.

Here you can find the Tesuque market as well as Tesuque Glassworks. The market has wonderful food for those looking to eat, while the Glass shop offers a gallery where you can watch glassblowing in action. Classes are also available to those who want to have hands-on experience.
