SWIMMERS OF THE MEET

Novice

- Sophie Khelashvili – She dropped a lot of time in her events and showed a lot of focus throughout the meet!

Bronze

- Camdyn Price – Cami dropped an incredible 65 seconds off of her 200 freestyle time! That's one of the biggest drops I've seen in a long time! Keep up the great work!
- Honorable Mention: Sofia Sivilotti, Carina Villalona, and Lauren Muffley for swimming the 500 freestyle for the first time!

Silver

- Hudson Williams – Hudson had a phenomenal IMX meet! He picked up four new JO cuts and is positioning himself for a very successful championship season. Keep up the great work!

Gold

- Will Elsrod – Will is swimming at a very high level and to drop times in all of his events at this point in the season is awesome!
- Annie Volker – Annie has been working incredibly for the time drops she received over the weekend. Annie dropped significant time in each event that she swam.

Platinum

- Andrei Proca – Andrei swam to best times in all 6 of his IMX events over the weekend. Congrats!
- Kali Butler – Kali, a distance specialist, also swam to best times during the IMX challenge with several impressive swims. Good job!
- Thomas Lennox – Thomas had his best swim meet of the season so far and swam to almost all best times. Keep it up!

National Team

- Pearson Spychalski – Pearson won the 14-year-old IMX high-point award due to his consistency in all of his events. All of his events were lifetime or seasonal bests. His training has been great and it's showing in his meet performances.
- Elise Barbour – Elise is made for an IMX meet – the only thing missing is the 1650! Like Pearson, Elise was very consistent in all of her events. She's setting herself up for a strong championship season.
