Technology

Using the latest technology, your swimmer will have an immersive experience during each swim session. Each swimmer will be equipped with a bone-conduction headset that allows coaches to talk to each swimmer in real time as they work through each of the stroke drills. This immediate feedback lets swimmers make stroke corrections as they swim. For group communication, headsets allow each swimmer to fully hear what the next swim set will be without having to strain to hear over the noise of the water.

Video Review and Stroke Analysis

A video upload link will be provided for each swimmer of their strokes along with coach commentary. This can then be viewed at home and shared with coaches for future review.
